Rebecca G. Estes

Web Developer | Washington, DC   estes.rebecca@gmail.com | rebeccaestes.com

EXPERIENCE

05/17-pres. The Smithsonian Institution   Web Developer
- Sole full-time developer for the National Museum for the American Indian
- Built responsive, educational case studies with video, audio, and interactive features for the NK360 initiative
- Worked with vendor to implement submission system for National Native American Veterans Memorial competition. Styled custom pages and components and oversaw technical aspects of project
- Principal developer on first responsive redesign on the NMAI site
- Migrated NMAI development to GitHub

04/16-05/17 Elucid Solutions   Front-End Developer
- Built and maintained Drupal 8 websites for federal government agencies
- Created and updated interactive training materials for GSA employees' software system
- Acted as primary front-end developer, working with HTML, SASS, Javascript/jQuery, Twig, and SVGs to build interfaces based on InVision design comps
- Collaborated with back-end developer to build and maintain custom and open-source Drupal modules
- Built out JavaScript unit tests with QUnit
- Interviewed client stakeholders and compile information architecture outlines

02/16-03/16 RP3 Agency   Front-End Developer (Contract)
- Built front end of real estate website for Long & Foster
- Converted mockups into working, responsive components using HTML, SASS, Javascript, Bootstrap, and Gulp
- QA tested pages across browsers and devices and for accessibility
- Maintained project style guide

TECHNICAL SKILLS

Expert in front-end technologies: HTML, CSS/SASS, Javascript/jQuery.

Proficient with Git, JSON, XML, etc.

Have worked with various backends and frameworks, including React, Rails, Django, and Drupal.

EDUCATION

10/15-01/16 General Assembly | DC
Graduate of full-stack Web Development Immersive.

01/06-05/08 Barnard College at Columbia University
New York City
B.A. cum laude, Political Science

08/04-12/05 University of Virginia
Charlottesville, Va.